

Jaco Oosthuizen

Mr Jaco Oosthuizen is a technical scientist that enjoys research and development. He obtained an MMedSc. in Human Genetics and currently a PhD candidate in the Division of Human Genetics at the University of the Free State (UFS). He is employed by the NHLS Bloemfontein as a Senior Medical Scientist, where his focus is the genetic diagnosis of breast cancer and developmental delay. He serves on several committees that include the UFS Science Programmes Committee for the School of Pathology at the UFS, is a member of the Scientific and Technical Advisory Panel for the Open Genome Project in collaboration with Stellenbosch University and Medical Research Council and serves as supervisor and assessor for HPCSA Intern Medical Scientist training.