

Dr Lindsay Lambie

Lindsay is a Paediatrician and Clinical Geneticist. Lindsay worked at the NHLS and University of the Witwatersrand Human Genetics Department as a lecturer and consultant Clinical Geneticist for 10 years, before moving to the Private sector, at Ampath's National Reference Laboratory in 2018. The department comprises a Genetics Laboratory and Clinical consultation/Genetic counselling service. Lindsay has a particular interest in Paediatric Genetics, reproductive genetics and neurodevelopmental disorders, and the use of new molecular genetic techniques in the diagnosis of these conditions.