

Maria Mudau

Division of Human Genetics, National Health Laboratory service and School of Pathology, Faculty of Health Sciences, University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Ms Maria Mudau joined the Division of Human Genetics, National Health Laboratory service and the University of the Witwatersrand in 2006 as an intern Medical Scientist, having graduated from the University of the Free State with a Master's degree in Biotechnology. She has 15 years of experience in the field of Human Genetics and a Joint-staff between University of the Witwatersrand and the National Health Laboratory Service as Senior Medical Scientist, Lecturer, Researcher and Part-time PhD student (Final thesis submitted for examination). Her duties include overseeing the NGS testing using the targeted gene panel, lecturing postgraduate students, supervising and undertaking research projects, teaching and training new staff, students, Interns and registrars.